

Certified Entrepreneur™ is the Executive MBA program for ‘Smarties’

Did you know it costs between $80k and $150k to earn an MBA? That doesn't even count the two years of your life in classroom instruction OR having to earn a four year degree first and then having to take the GMAT!

If you'd rather spend your money and valuable time on your new venture than spending on a title then the Guanzi Institutes' Certified Entrepreneur program is for you!

Why? Well, Erik Bowman (a successful entrepreneur and highly sought after startup advisor) undertook the process of condensing his 20 years of accumulated startup knowledge as well as critical components from the best MBA programs into a dense 200 page book called Certified Entrepreneur exclusively for Guanzi Institute. We then had experts develop a series of exams based upon his book and created a information packed self-paced study program that can be completed in as little as 2 weeks.

With the newly updated Certified Entrepreneur program re-release, Guanzi Institute also rolled out an online community to provide peer-to-peer interaction and support.

There is no other program available online or off that offers this uniquely effective combination of self-paced, comprehensive entrepreneur training and peer interaction at any price ... and certainly not for the low price of just $495.00 (including books!).

Thinking about an MBA? Wouldn't you rather invest that $100k and two years of your life developing your dream into a profitable company? That's why you are one of the 'smarties'!

Need more information and program specifics? Visit <http://www.guanzi.com>